A Different Kind of Christmas Story

By Judi Moreo

(This poem was sent to me by my friend, Larry Carr, in Denver. It touched my heart, so I decided to include it as my Christmas message to you. I hope it touches your heart as well.)

A Different Kind of Christmas Story
Author Unknown

"The embers glowed softly. In their dim light,
I gazed round the room and I cherished the sight
My wife was asleep, her head on my chest,
My daughter beside me, angelic in rest.
Outside the snow fell, a blanket of white,
transforming the yard to a winter delight.

The sparkling lights in the tree, I believe,
completed the magic that was Christmas Eve.
My eyelids were heavy, my breathing was deep
Secure and surrounded by love I would sleep.
In perfect contentment, or so it would seem,
So I slumbered, perhaps I started to dream.
The sound wasn't loud, and it wasn't too near,
but I opened my eyes when it tickled my ear.

Perhaps just a cough, I didn't quite know,
Then the sure sound of footsteps outside in the snow.
My soul gave a tremble, I struggled to hear.
I crept to the door just to see who was near.
Standing there in the cold and the dark of the night,
a lone figure stood, his face weary and tight.
A soldier, I puzzled, some twenty years old,
Perhaps a Marine, huddled here in the cold.
Alone in the dark, he looked up and smiled,
standing watch over me, and my wife and my child.

"What are you doing?" I asked without fear,
"Come in this moment, it's freezing out there!
Put down your pack, brush the snow from your sleeve,
You should be at home on this cold Christmas Eve!"
For barely a moment I saw his eyes shift away from the cold and the snow blown in drifts...

to the window that danced with a warm fire's light.
Then he sighed and he said, "It's really all right,
I'm out here by choice. I'm here every night."
"It's my duty to stand at the front of the line,
that separates you from the darkest of time.
No one had to ask or beg or implore me,
I'm proud to stand here like my fathers before me.
My Gramps died at 'Pearl on a day in December,"
he sighed, "That's a Christmas 'Gram will always remember."
My dad stood his watch in the jungles of 'Nam'
and now it is my turn and so, here I am.
I've not seen my own son in more than a while but my wife sends me pictures...he's sure got her smile.

Then he bent and he carefully pulled from his bag.
The red, white, and blue...an American flag.
"I can live through the cold and the being alone,
away from my family, my house and my home.
I can stand at my post through the rain and the sleet,
I can sleep in a foxhole with little to eat.
I can carry the weight of killing another or lay down my life with my sister and brother who stand at the front against any and all...
To ensure for all time that this flag will not fall."
"So go back inside," he said, "harbor no fright.
Your family is waiting and I'll be all right."
"But isn't there something I can do, at the least,
"Give you money," I asked, "or prepare you a feast?"
It seems all too little for all that you've done,
For being away from your wife and your son."

Then his eye welled a tear that held no regret,
"Just tell us you love us, and never forget.
Fight for our rights back at home while we're gone.
Stand your own watch, no matter how long
For when we come home, either standing or dead.
The fact you remember we fought and we bled.
Is payment enough.
With that we will know that we mattered to you...as you mattered to us!!!"

BE SURE TO REMEMBER OUR GALLANT MILITARY MEN & WOMEN IN YOUR PRAYERS!!

GOD BLESS THEM AND BLESS AMERICA!"
