MAY

This month's quotes are all about "NATURE." Most of us are looking forward to the summer months, and to enjoy the display of natural beauty all around us, and even appreciate and welcome an afternoon shower. I hope you will find these quotes inspirational.

"We need to find God, and he cannot be found in noise and restlessness. God is the friend of silence. See how nature – trees, flowers, grass – grows in silence; see the stars, the moon and the sun, how they move in silence...We need silence to be able to touch souls."

—Mother Teresa

"Look deep into nature, and then you will understand everything better."

—Albert Einstein

"Wherever you go, no matter what the weather, always bring your own sunshine."

—Anthony J. D'Angelo

"Just living is not enough...one must have sunshine, freedom, and a little flower."

—Hans Christian Andersen

"There is such beauty and wonder in God's creation. Have you ever heard a bird singing off-key? The sun, the moon, the stars, and the seasons—they work with such precision that it is awesome to comprehend"

—Felicita "Terry" Robinson, Seven Letters To Heaven

"There is pleasure in the pathless woods, there is rapture in the lonely shore, there is society where none intrudes, by the deep sea, and music in its roar; I love not Man the less, but Nature more."

—Lord Byron

"No better way is there to learn to love Nature than to understand Art. It dignifies

"Nature's beauty is a gift that cultivates appreciation and gratitude." —Louie Schwartzberg "Adopt the pace of nature: her secret is patience." —Ralph Waldo Emerson "One of the most tragic things I know about human nature is that all of us tend to put off living. We are all dreaming of some magical rose garden over the horizon instead of enjoying the roses that are blooming outside of our windows today." —Dale Carnegie "The glory of gardening: hands in the dirt, head in the sun, heart with nature. To nurture a garden is to feed not just on the body, but the soul." —Alfred Austin "I felt my lungs inflate with the onrush of scenery—air, mountains, trees, people. I thought, "This is what it is to be happy." —Sylvia Plath "I am continually inspired by nature, and the rainbow is one of nature's greatest optical phenomenons. The sighting of a rainbow never fails to bring a smile to people's faces. They signify optimism and positivity: with them comes the sunshine after the rain." —Matthew Williamson "We don't inherit the earth from our ancestors, we borrow it from our children." —Native American proverb "I took a walk in the woods and came out taller than the trees." —Henry David Thoreau "Those who contemplate the beauty of the earth find reserves of strength that will endure as long as life lasts." —Rachel Carson "Plant the seeds of happiness hope, success, and love; it will come back to you in abundance. This is the law of nature."	every flower of the field. And, the boy who sees the thing of beauty which a bird on the wing becomes when transferred to wood or canvas will probably not throw the customary stone."

"The tree which moves some to tears of joy is in the eyes of others only a green thing that stands in the way. Some see nature all ridicule and deformityand some scarce see nature at all. But to the eyes of the man of imagination, nature is imagination itself."

—William Blake
