This month's quotes are all about "ROMANCE." I hope you will find these quotes inspirational.

"Some women choose to follow men, and some women choose to follow their dreams. If you're wondering which way to go, remember that your career will never wake up and tell you that it doesn't love you anymore."

—Lady Gaga

"I heard what you said. I'm not the silly romantic you think. I don't want the heavens or the shooting stars. I don't want gemstones or gold. I have those things already. I want...a steady hand. A kind soul. I want to fall asleep, and wake, knowing my heart is safe. I want to love, and be loved."

—Shana Abe

"Yesterday the greatest question was decided which ever was debated in America; and a greater perhaps never was, nor will be, decided among men. A resolution was passed without one dissenting colony, 'that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States.' "

—John Adams

"If you love somebody, let them go, for if they return, they were always yours. If they don't they never were."

—Kahlil Gibran

"When love is not madness it is not love."

—Pedro Calderon de la Barca

"Tis better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all."

—Tennyson

“I like not only to be loved, but also to be told I am loved.”

—George Eliot

“The one thing we can never get enough of is love. And the one thing we never give enough of is love.”

—Henry Miller

“How absurd and delicious it is to be in love with somebody younger than yourself. Everybody should try it.”

—Barbara Pym

“Some of us think holding on makes us strong; but sometimes it is letting go.”

—Hermann Hesse

“We’re born alone, we live alone, we die alone. Only through our love and friendship can we create the illusion for the moment that we’re not alone.”

—Orson Welles

“We’re all a little weird, and life’s a little weird. And when we find someone whose weirdness is compatible with ours, we join up with them and fall in mutual weirdness and call it love.”

—Dr. Seuss

“Love is of all passions the strongest, for it attacks simultaneously the head, the heart, and the senses.”

—Lao Tzu

“Love is like a friendship caught on fire. In the beginning a flame, very pretty, often hot and fierce, but still only light and flickering. As love grows older, our hearts mature and our love becomes as coals, deep-burning and unquenchable.”

—Bruce Lee

“To get the full value of a joy you must have somebody to divide it with.”

—Mark Twain
